FLAG CARE

Cleaning

If your flag is starting to get dusty or dirty, you can wash simply put it in the washing machine on a cold wash with half the detergent you would normally use and some fabric softener. Do not tumble dry, simply hang it up on the cloth line and wait for it to be completely dry before packing it up to avoid any mildew or damage.

Maintenance

Flags are generally subjected to the environment and its elements. Ultraviolet rays and high winds cause the breakdown of the fibres in the flags, particularly the sewn edges at the extremities. The pigment in the inks used also tend to breakdown, making your flags fade over time... Prevailing condition will largely determine the length of the life of your flags. A flag in extreme conditions will not last as long as a flag flown in tempered environments. If you wish to preserve your flag, it should be brought in when strong winds are predicted. Life of a flag also depends on its flying time. A flag that is used 24 hours a day will definitely not last as long as a flag that is used casually!
